minerality

minerality

In Priorat we use a secret ingredient: llicorella, a kind of slate the forms the soil where our vines grow.

The scarce water that they get from the sky, forces the vines to deepen their roots in the soil and absorb the minerality characteristic of our wines.

elegance

We believe in subtle wines, expressive but not raucous.

Wines that seduce because of its subtle angles.

Wines that are kind and easy to enjoy.

freshness

freshness

There is no pleasure without freshness. A sip should call for the next one.

The balance between acidity and alcohol is part of a great wine.

Freshness is essential, lightens wine and refines it.

At Trossos we do the most to preserve freshness by protecting grapes from the sun and mediterranean heat.

Our white wine. A blend of Garnacha Blanca and Macabeu, expressing the terroir of the Priorat. Full of minerality and richness. A mediterranean white wine, with full body and at the same time a very well integrated acidity, making it very refreshing and pleasant.

The wine is fermented in new French oak barrels for 90 days. During this time, fermenting temperature is controlled and batonage is performed. After, sur lie ageing in stainless steel tanks for 4 months. The wine is then filtered and bottled and kept in our cellar for 10 months.

Tasting note: Pale straw yellow colour. Complex and elegant aroma, with tropical fruity notes of lychee, combined with orange blossom, mineral and well integrated smoky notes. Later it develops balsamic notes. Strong character, structured and powerful mouthfeel. Very fresh, oily and long, it grows in the mouth. Smoky hints in the end.
